TV DRAMA HELPED ME TO SAVE BABY'S LIFE

A SHOPPER who saved the life of an eight-week-old baby by copying first aid techniques she had seen on hospital TV drama Casualty has been hailed a hero by the tot's grateful mum.

Mandy Briscoe (53) was at the checkout of the Iceland store in the Harvey Centre when she heard baby Kianna's mum Kerry Shaw screaming hysterically.

"I had just put my cash card in the machine when I heard a lady screaming 'my baby, my baby,'" Mandy told the Star.

"I turned round and saw the mother frantically trying to hand her baby, who had stopped breathing and was blue by that point, to someone else to help. It was horrifying."

Mandy, who lives in Broadfields, Harlow, suffers from severe anxiety and said it was completely out of character for her to respond as she did.

"Normally in a situation like that I would run away from the crowd, not towards it," she said. "But there was this voice in my head that said to save the baby and so I just abandoned everything and started running."

"When I finally got to the baby I just grabbed her, threw her over my shoulder and hit her back with cupped hands whilst blowing in her face. I then started to undress her to give her some air."

"It was a mixture of things I had been taught to do on my daughter years ago as she suffered from asthma, and also techniques that I'd seen on Casualty."

Mandy, who has never had any professional medical training, said it seemed ages until Kianna finally started to cry.

"I remember just being so relieved when she started crying. I held her up so everyone could see and then kissed her," she said. "Everyone was applauding."

"Someone told me afterwards that I had been whispering 'you are not going to die on

Hundreds protest at farmland homes plan

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HUNDREDS of angry residents took to the streets on Saturday in protest at proposals for a huge residential development on a swathe of farmland off Gilden Way.

Clutching homemade banners and placards calling on councillors to reject the plans, the protestors gathered at the roundabout linking Gilden Way with Churchgate Street before marching through Old Harlow.

Passing motorists sounded their horns in support with the demonstrators who are opposed to plans to build 1,200 homes, new shops and community facilities on the 49-hectare site bordered by historic Harlowbury Chapel and the Gibberd Garden.

The two-hour protest was co-ordinated by the Churchgate Street Residents' Association with the backing of Harlow Civic Society. Association chairman Robin McCartney said afterwards he was not surprised by the huge turnout.

"Considering the strength of feeling on this issue I was not at all surprised by the number of people who turned out to show their support for the campaign," he said.

"The fact is there simply isn't the infrastructure to support such a huge new development. If it goes ahead, Old Harlow will effectively lose its green wedge and any new estate will be in such an elevated position it will dominate the landscape in this part of the town."

Mr McCartney said the group now planned to stage a second protest outside the Civic Centre ahead of the annual council meeting on May 26 when the Conservative administration will determine its new committee set-up following this month's local elections.

"The council's Local Development Framework strategy clearly supports new development on the land, so the real worry we have is that the administration will populate its new planning committee with councillors willing to toe the party line and pass the plans regardless of the level of opposition," he added.

"But even if some feel as though it's already a done deal, we are determined to fight to the bitter end and give the developers a real run for their money."

The demonstration received high-profile backing from Harlow MP Rob Halfon, who addressed the group ahead of the march. Conservative councillors Sue Livings and Joel Charles also attended to show their support for the protesters.

Mr Halfon told the Star this week: "Like many residents of Harlow I have concerns about over development and preserving the original design principles of Harlow, like the green wedges, that make our town unique. I have made these feelings clear to the council and also to the developers.

"For over 10 years I have campaigned to protect the green spaces in Harlow and for local people to have a genuine say in decision-making."

He added: "Clearly the developers want to develop the land and ultimately this will be a decision for the planning committee at Harlow Council. But I will continue to raise residents' concerns with them, as I have done for several months."

Council leader Andrew Johnson said the authority was currently scrutinising the proposals after receiving an outline planning application from the development consortium behind the plans.

"This is a major application and currently officers are studying the supporting documentation and are waiting for the responses from the various statutory bodies," he said.

"The council treats all applications in accordance with planning law and all are judged on their individual merits."

"The planning committee is made up of councillors across all parties and is open and transparent in its decision-making."

Police arrest teenager after sex assault near Staple Tye shops

A TEENAGE boy has been arrested by police investigating allegations that a woman was sexually assaulted in the early hours of Tuesday.

The incident is said to have happened at around 12.50am in a pathway linking the Finchmoor estate and Southern Way opposite the Staple Tye shopping centre.

The victim, a local woman in her 40s, had been walking to her home.

A police cordon was set up around the crime scene on Tuesday morning as investigating officers gathered evidence.

The 17-year-old boy, from Harlow, was arrested and questioned later the same day and was being held in police custody as the Star went to press.

Police have asked for anyone with information about the attack or who may have seen a group of people sitting and chatting together on a grass verge near the crime scene prior to the incident to contact Detective Inspector Martin Read at Harlow CID on 0300 333 4444.

me little girl' the whole time but I can't remember that. I was so numb that I don't really know how I felt.

"I just think that it was fate that I had decided to go into the supermarket at that time and fate that something inside made me act."

Kianna, who was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital, has since been discharged but is still undergoing ongoing medical tests. Ms Shaw (38), of Bush Fair, said Mandy was a hero for saving her daughter's life.

"I can't thank her enough," she said. "When Kianna went blue I was just hysterical and didn't know what do."

"I was convinced I'd lost her. I can't explain the relief I felt when I first heard that cry. It was so lucky that Mandy was there and acted the way she did."

Sergeant Chris Gould, of Essex Police, praised Mandy for her swift action. "I have spoken to and personally thanked her for her quick thinking which helped to revive the baby," he said.

Magnificent Millie is Cub badge champion

DEDICATED Millie Mitchell has received the highest Cub Scout award after completing all but two of the movement's 33 activity badges.

Millie (10), who recently moved up to the 2nd Great Pardon Scouts, received the Chief Scout Silver Award after setting a new Harlow record by gaining 31 badges.

The St Nicholas School pupil said she set her sights high after reading an article about the first girl Cub Scout to gain all the badges.

She completed the badges in just two and a half years.

"The Scientist Badge was my favourite as it was fun to make pretty blue crystals which I still have," said Millie, of Newhall, Harlow. "The hardest was athletics because I am not very good at it!"

District Commissioner Ann Nutt added: "Achieving these badges shows great dedication and also how strong the movement is for challenging our young people.

"Well done to Millie and I hope she encourages many more Cubs to complete as many badges as possible while having as much fun as possible."

Woman stole from home of confused OAP

A CALLOUS thief who stole from the home of an elderly Alzheimer's sufferer after finding her lost and confused in a Harlow street has been spared a jail sentence.

Instead, a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court gave Melanie King (30) a 12-month suspended sentence and ordered her to attend six months of drug rehabilitation.

The court was told King, of no fixed address, and accomplice Paul Stallman (33), of The Hides, found the 84-year-old woman wandering in the street.

After taking their victim back to her home, King then helped herself to jewellery and cash she found in the house. Stallman later pawned some of the stolen property.

COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Noel Caset, prosecuting, said: "Both defendants had been seen by neighbours who had been concerned, especially when they were seen escorting her back and King was seen in the kitchen. They were concerned, rightly so."

Describing it as a "horrible" case, judge Anthony Goldstaub told the pair: "You went to her home where she should have been safe. It was her safe haven."

"Old people, particularly old people suffering from problems such as this, deserve protection from the courts and they will get that."

However, he added that King and Stallman had been motivated by their use of drugs and had not planned the theft.

He said King, who pleaded guilty to burglary, had already served the equivalent of a 12-month jail sentence on remand while waiting for the case to come to court.

Stallman, who pleaded guilty to handling stolen goods, was given a six-month suspended prison sentence and also ordered to undertake drug rehabilitation.

Join us for a walk in the dark

WITH only a few weeks to go before this year's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk, time is running out for those who want to take part but who have yet to sign up.

The number of people who have registered is now approaching the 1,000 mark but it is hoped as many as 1,500 will have joined up before the deadline on Friday, June 10.

Event organiser Tracy Stratford said: "With the Easter weekend and the recent bank holidays, sign-ups have definitely slowed down, so with only four weeks left to go until registration closes now really is the time to register."

The 10km walk around Harlow – which once again is supported by the Star – takes place on Saturday, June 18. It will start from the car park outside ASDA in The Water Gardens at 10.30pm.

The entry fee is £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a bog bag and 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt.

The evening begins with entertainment on stage from around 8pm with music and games. Shortly before the start of the walk there will be a Zumba-style warm-up session to get everyone in the mood.

Giles Wright, communications manager at the hospice, said: "We would like to say a huge thank you to everyone who has already signed up and also to this year's sponsors – Gates of Harlow, King Du and the Star."

He added: "It costs £2.6m each year to run the hospice and with only 24 per cent of this amount being funded by the NHS, more than £5,400 needs to be raised each day."

"So for those who haven't signed up already, don't delay. Please sign up today as your local hospice needs your support."

● To find out more about the Midnight Walk or to register online, log on to the website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk. Alternatively, call the events team on (01279) 773750 to request an entry form.

Springsteen fan in court for breaking noise order

THE music of American rocker Bruce Springsteen has cost a Harlow man more than £1,000 after he was found guilty of breaching a noise abatement notice by belting out the star's hits at ear-splitting volume.

Alan Howorth (62) had already been served with a noise abatement notice last December at his home in Guilfords following complaints from neighbours. But just one month later environmental health officers returned to the property after receiving further complaints from people living nearby. Harlow magistrates were told the officers heard Springsteen hits including Dancing In The Dark and Born In The USA being played at excessive volume.

Howorth was found guilty in his absence of breaching the abatement notice and fined £500 with £588.42 costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment policy working group, said: "Fans are used to Bruce Springsteen's energetic and loud performances but they prefer to see that spectacle in a stadium rather than a housing estate."

"Mr Howorth ignored earlier polite requests to turn the volume down, so I fear he was born to run into trouble when he kept it up."

Tories hold on as Lib Dem vote collapses

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Conservatives have retained control of Harlow Council despite Labour taking seven of the 11 seats up for grabs in Thursday's local elections.

It was a bad night for the Liberal Democrats who lost two seats in Bush Fair and Mark Hall to Labour and saw their vote crumble across the town.

The Tories held Church Langley, Great Parndon and Old Harlow and won the vacant Sumners & Kingsmoor seat previously held by former Conservative councillor Sarah Dangerfield, despite strong competition from Labour.

But Labour did pick up the Staple Tye seat left vacant by the resignation of former Tory councillor Lee Dangerfield and the party also held on to its seats in Harlow Common, Little Parndon & Hare Street, Nettewell and Toddbrook.

The results leave the Conservatives as the majority party with 17 seats. Labour have 14 and the Lib Dems just two.

Conservative group leader Andrew Johnson, who was re-elected in Church Langley with a comfortable majority of 818, told the Star he was pleased with the outcome.

"There were no great surprises for us," he said. "Labour spent most of the run-up to the elections telling us how we were going to lose control of the council, but we were always confident our vote would hold up across the town.

"Although Labour have made gains, they won two seats from the Lib Dems and one of the two vacant seats. They haven't caused us any great upsets and we're now looking forward to getting on with the job the people of Harlow have entrusted us to do."

Labour leader Mark Wilkinson, who held his Harlow Common seat with a majority of 211, said he was "over the moon" with his party's performance.

"It would have been the icing on the cake to knock the Tories off their perch but it was a fantastic night for Labour in Harlow nonetheless," he said.

"We have put real pressure on the Tories and we'll be looking to build on our gains ahead of next year's elections when we hope to take control of the council.

"We're in a much stronger position than last year but we have to recognise that we're still an opposition party and as such we will continue to fight back against the Tory-sanctioned cuts being made to services across the town."

Retiring Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington remained philosophical about his Staff say thanks in verse

VOLUNTEERS at a Harlow-based charity surprised their chief executive with a 'thank you' certificate and poem they put together in her honour.

Philomena Lawrence, who has worked at the West Essex Alcohol & Drugs Advisory Service since 1979, was presented with the tokens of appreciation during a meeting at the group's headquarters in The Stow.

ADAS volunteer and social care student Tara O'Loghlan said: "Phil is a fantastic boss who regularly goes above and beyond the call of duty for her staff and service users."

"We've really suffered as a result of the spending cuts but she has remained determined to ensure the quality of the services we provide isn't compromised."

MY TEAM: Philomena Lawrence with her staff at ADAS

"There are over 90 volunteers working here and everyone contributed a line to the poem. Hopefully it showed her just how much we appreciate her hard work and determination."

ADAS provides help and support to people with drug and alcohol dependency issues living across the region.

I was ill for years . . . then they found why

IT was six years ago that, after returning home from a day's work feeling so ill she could barely move, Nicki Walker decided enough was enough.

The 44-year-old, of Longbanks, Harlow, had suffered the same symptoms for years; constant stomach cramps, bloating, weight loss and severe fatigue. In the past doctors had diagnosed Nicki's symptoms as a form of Irritable Bowel Syndrome and then later said she had aplastic anaemia, a more severe form of the low red blood cell condition.

But despite following medical advice, Nicki did not feel any better.

"I went to my doctor the next day and told them I wasn't leaving until they referred me to someone else," said Nicki. "I was booked an appointment with a gastroenterologist and straight away he said he thought I was coeliac."

After a simple blood test, the gastroenterologist's suspicions were confirmed. Nicki had coeliac disease, an auto immune condition triggered by the consumption of gluten, a protein found in foods such as wheat, barley and rye.

"It was a relief when they actually found something," said Nicki, "but further tests showed that by that time there had already been damage to my intestines and I had three stomach ulcers. They thought I'd had it for at least 20 years."

Statistics show that even though one in 100 people in the UK have coeliac disease, on average it takes about 13 years to be diagnosed. Many are initially told they suffer from IBS or wheat intolerance.

Once diagnosed, sufferers must follow a strict gluten-free diet otherwise the disease could lead to infertility, osteoporosis or even bowel cancer.

"At first it was quite hard to remove gluten from my diet, especially as there are so many products containing gluten that you wouldn't expect," said Nicki. "Crisps, sauces, beer – even my contraceptive pill was found to have gluten traces."

"I am quite used to it now and although there are foods that I miss, my health is more important. The difference in how I now feel makes it all worthwhile."

Since Nicki was diagnosed several of her friends and even her father, Michael (68), have been tested after suffering similar symptoms and were found to be coeliac.

"I would say to anyone that thinks they may have coeliac to just go to your doctors and ask for a test," she said. "It's a simple blood test and if you do have coeliac then it is so important to know to stop any more damage being done to your body."

As part of Coeliac Awareness Week, which starts on Monday, national charity Coeliac UK is encouraging people to take part in its Gluten-Free Challenge to raise awareness about coeliac disease. To find out more, visit www.coeliac.org.uk/glutenfreechallenge.

Home agents' offer of a helping hand

CHARITIES in Harlow are being encouraged to take advantage of an estate agents offer of help.

To celebrate their 20th year in business, Intercounty are 'lending out' 20 of their staff to local charities for the day.

Company co-director Greg Young said: "At Intercounty we have not lost sight of the fact that in today's society it is becoming more and more important to support local communities."

"This year we plan to raise £20,000 for the homeless and we have challenged all our branches to offer members of staff for one day to a local charity. We will meet the cost of their pay and help to ensure the chosen cause gets the very best from all of our Intercounty colleagues."

If you are a local charity, or organisation and would like to bag yourself an estate agent for the day, contact Martin Farrington on (01279) 639666.

Hospice fundraiser takes the biscuit

FUNDRAISERS at St Clare Hospice are encouraging residents to support their Big Biscuit Break campaign.

The hospice at Hastingwood launched its tasty new fundraising drive last week and is hoping that from June 20-26 as many people as possible will enjoy a crunchy treat to help raise funds towards its £2.6m annual running costs.

Event fundraiser Dave Bishop said: "Whether you are part of a group, school, club, pub, small business or major corporate organisation, everyone can get involved."

"You may decide on a bake sale, a biscuit competition or just bring something yummy in for your tea break and ask for donations."

"Whatever you choose to do, you know it will be for a great cause."

To register and get your fundraising pack, call (01279) 773 750 or email community@stclarehospice.org.uk.

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the weekly St Clare Hospice lottery (week ending Friday, May 6) is ticket holder 722591. The ticket holder lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to ticket holder 522437, who also lives in Harlow.

Open day highlights charity's work with mental illness

A CHARITY supporting people with mental health issues is highlighting the importance of equal employment opportunities.

The MCCH held an open day at the Nettewell Hall annex in Park Lane, Harlow to show how their business projects – which only employ people with mental health problems – not only create employment opportunities for vulnerable people but also benefit the community at large.

Marketing officer Alexa Templar explained: "The way MCCH works is by organising a number of projects that are run by people with mental health needs to deliver services needed by the local community.

"As a charity we are helping people with such needs to increase their confidence and social skills through work whilst also generating revenue which is then reinvested back into the organisation to help more people."

As well as helping to find and provide work, MCCH also helps prepare people with mental health needs for other aspects of employment such as writing CVs or preparing for job interviews.

Alexa added: "We wanted to hold the open day to show off the work we do. We want to demonstrate to local companies our enterprising solution for people with mental health needs whilst also promoting an innovative service to those suffering with mental health problems that will help them to live a more valued life."

Fun for all at Race for Life
in Town Park

AS thousands of women begin the countdown to this weekend's Harlow Cancer Research UK's Race for Life, organisers are calling on families and friends to show their support.

Almost 3,000 women from across Herts and Essex - many of them cancer survivors or people taking part in memory or celebration of their loved ones - have signed up to run, walk or jog the 5k or 10k routes around the Town Park on Sunday.

And Cancer Research UK is encouraging Harlow residents to turn out and cheer on the participants to make this year's Race for Life unforgettable.

Event manager Lucy Hynes said: "Many men come along to cheer their friends, wives, girlfriends, mums and daughters over the finish line, which is fantastically motivating, and then go home."

"But at this year's event we've got all the ingredients for a brilliant day out with great food, music, fun and games. So we are inviting our participants, their families, supporters and local residents to stay and make it a day to remember."

The Harlow Race for Life, which is supported by the Star, will feature live music, games, bouncy castles, face painting and dance and judo demonstrations.

Lucy added: "By supporting Race for Life, people in Harlow can make a real difference to the lives and future of people with cancer in their community."

Local people can give a boost to Cancer Research UK's work by doing a 'wardrobe workout' before they go to Sunday's event. The charity is encouraging participants and spectators to bag up unwanted clothes, books and accessories and take them to the donation station at Race for Life. Each bag could help to raise as much as an extra £30 for the charity's life-saving research.

Soccer school to spot the stars of tomorrow

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW soccer scouting school kicks off in Harlow later this month with the goal of discovering the next Wayne Rooney or Gareth Bale.

Harlow Town captain Leo Roget will be on the lookout for youngsters who have got what it takes to turn professional.

Defender Leo - who enjoyed spells with league clubs including Southend United, Stockport County and Reading before joining the Hawks - is hoping to find players aged 14-17 with the talent to make their footballing dreams come true.

"I know there are loads of lads out there with bags of ability but it's also about having the right contacts to give them the break they need to make it as professional footballers," Leo told the Star.

The scouting school will give aspiring players regular chances to impress club scouts while improving their skills.

"I've got two youth team managers at professional clubs who want me to forward them any boys showing real promise and there will be at least four scouts from different teams attending to monitor the boys' progress."

Sessions will run every Tuesday and Thursday evening from May 24 to June 30 at locations across the town, including the Hawks' own Barrows Farm stadium.

Leo will take a boots-on approach to the course himself, joining qualified coaches for the training sessions and practice matches to help participants improve their technique and ability.

"At the very least everyone taking part will leave a better player, but I'm hoping to give as many lads as possible a real chance of getting snapped by a professional club," he added.

Those attending will also get the chance to win weekly prizes, including Premier League match tickets, gym memberships and personal training sessions.

The 18-hour course costs £90 (£5 per hour) and can be paid for in advance or in weekly instalments. For more information, contact Leo on 07594 297939 or send an email to leo.roget@yahoo.co.uk.

Campaign tackles subjects of death and bereavement

HEALTH service providers across Essex are joining forces to encourage people to talk about death and bereavement.

Next week has been designated Dying Matters Awareness Week and among those supporting the campaign are NHS West Essex, West Essex Community Health Services, Princess Alexandra Hospital and St Clare Hospice.

Giles Wright, communications leader for the West Essex Dying Matters Partnership, said: "It was a great success last time we did it, with over 239 people talking to us and completing questionnaires about their own experiences and thoughts.

"It is so important that we all think about our future, including the end of our lives.

"West Essex has several specialist support services to care for people facing the end of their lives and living with incurable diseases, but if the public aren't aware of them they can't benefit from them."

The team will be available to talk to people and giving out information at the ASDA supermarket in Harlow town centre on May 20 from 9.30am.

For further information contact Karen Weatherill on (01992) 566131 or email Karen.weatherill@westessexpct.nhs.uk.

Messages were left in the book while it was on display in the Civic Centre during the week leading up to and after the Royal Wedding.

Council chairman Sue Livings said: "The marriage of Prince William and Catherine Middleton brought much of the town out in celebration and captivated the minds of people of all ages.

"This book of congratulations really captivates how residents feel and is the town's way of wishing the couple the very best for the future."

Judge jails pair caught running cannabis farm

TWO men who ran a cannabis farm have each been jailed for three years.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that Stuart Ellis (39), of Longfield, Harlow, and Lee Bridger (42), of Matching Green, were involved in the production of drugs which would have been part of a £300,000 annual turnover.

When police raided the premises at Little Canfield in January they found 209 cannabis plants worth about £50,000.

Both Ellis and Bridger pleaded guilty to producing the drug.

Samantha Lowther, prosecuting, told the court: "There were seven rooms, each with a cultivation set-up, and 209 plants were recovered."

Police also found special hydroponic lighting needed for the plants to grow.

Ms Lowther said when officers found Ellis in the kitchen of the building he told them he was glad they had caught him. Bridger tried to flee but was apprehended.

A search of Ellis' home turned up £5,000 in cash and ducting used in the set-up.

The court was told both defendants had previous convictions involving drugs. Ellis for smuggling £100,000 worth of ecstasy through the Channel Tunnel.

Jailing both men, judge Anthony Goldstaub told them: "It was a modest but nonetheless productive cannabis factory. Your precise roles are unclear but you two are an established part of the drug framework."

Benefits ruling left me in tears

VULNERABLE residents say they are struggling to feed themselves after having their disability benefits withdrawn as a result of Government reassessment tests.

People claiming Incapacity Benefit and Employment and Support Allowance have spoken of their distress at being left unable to afford basic necessities because assessment tests under the coalition Government's new Welfare Reform Bill have deemed them fit to work.

One of them – Kerry O'Brien (37), of Milwards – was signed off from work by her doctor two years ago for severe depression, diabetes and degenerative osteoporosis.

She said she was stunned to receive a letter telling her she was able to work and that her benefits had been cancelled.

"I hadn't expected it at all and just burst into tears," she said. "I'd had the ESA reassessment test two weeks before and it was absolutely ridiculous. It lasted about 15 minutes and consisted of a load of vague questions, being asked to raise both arms above my head and being told to lie down and lift my legs."

Kerry, who worked as a retail manager before falling ill, said she is now unable to pay her rent and utility bills or buy food.

"I have had to apply for Jobseeker's Allowance but that could take weeks. What am I supposed to do in the meantime?

"The fact is that before I was signed off I worked every day of my life. I'm not one of these people that doesn't want to go to work; I would love to be well enough to work."

Another resident, who wished to remain anonymous, said her son who suffers from a chronic skin disorder had been asked to pick up a pencil during his assessment test.

"It was basically a tick sheet, simply ludicrous," she said. "There may be people who want easy access to money but not everyone in England is on the take. Surely such callous treatment to those who cannot defend themselves is in itself indefensible."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said he had "very serious concerns" about the new disability reassessments. "We may need to assess people for the benefits that they receive, but this should always be fair and humane," he told the Star this week.

"Disabled or ill people should be treated with dignity and respect. That is why in November last year I called for a debate in Parliament, in particular around the maladministration of benefit checks, as a number of Harlow residents had been mistreated."

KERRY O'BRIEN: "I'm not one of these people that doesn't want to go to work; I would love to be well enough to work."

Excellence award for Harlow Leisurezone

HARLOW'S showpiece Leisurezone has been recognised as one of the best multi-purpose leisure facilities in the region.

The complex in Second Avenue was given a prestigious Building Excellence award at the LABC Building Excellence Awards in Colchester last week after judges described it as "a spectacular multi-purpose leisure facility with a variety of intriguing spaces".

The community leisure centre scooped the prize for best commercial development in East Anglia and has now been shortlisted for a national LABC Building Excellence Award.

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment policy working group, said: "This state-of-the-art facility is leading the way in the region for building standards and is another step in our plans to raise Harlow's image and further enhance our reputation for sport and leisure."

OAP died from burns injuries suffered during fire at home

AN elderly woman died after her dressing gown caught fire while she was cooking on a gas stove at home, an inquest has heard.

Maureen Downes (84) suffered 70 per cent burns to her arms, chest and back after accidentally knocking a pan of hot water over herself on January 18 this year.

Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray was told at last Wednesday's hearing in Chelmsford that the dressing gown the pensioner was wearing then caught fire from the gas hob in the kitchen of her home in Sakins Court.

Mrs Downes, who lived alone and suffered from rheumatoid arthritis among other complaints, was taken by paramedics to Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow and then transferred to the specialist burns unit at Chelsea & Westminster Hospital.

The inquest heard there were no beds available at the Broomfield Hospital burns unit in Chelmsford, which is considerably closer to Harlow.

Mrs Downes died in hospital on February 11. The cause of death was recorded as extensive burns and a blood clot in the lung.

An investigation by Essex Fire and Rescue Service established that the fire was an accident and the coroner recorded a verdict of accidental death.

Muggers steal mobile phone

POLICE are appealing for information after a man was assaulted and robbed in Harlow.

The incident happened in the early hours of Saturday as the victim walked along the cycle path near Westfield.

He was approached from behind by two men who grabbed his throat and pinned him to the floor before stealing his mobile phone and wallet.

The men are described as having eastern European accents.

Anyone with any information should call DC Louise Sheridan-Brown at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444.

Does photo of boxing legend ring any bells?

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AS the nation mourns the loss of sporting legend Sir Henry Cooper – who passed away aged 76 after long term illness last week – Nostalgia was fortunate to be sent a picture of the former heavyweight champion during a visit to Harlow.

The photo, which dates back to the late 1970s, was sent in by Jill Jackson (64), of Little Parndon, and shows Henry with Harlow majorette group Sapphire 21.

Jill said it was taken during the celebrations to mark the opening of a new bookies in Potter Street.

“The betting shop was the latest one to be opened by Tom Jennings, who was a bit of a renowned character for his betting shops in the town at the time,” said Jill.

“The Sapphires, of which my daughter Sarah was a member at the time, were invited to perform at the ceremony. I don’t know how they managed to get Henry Cooper to attend but I remember we were excited about it. He drew a good crowd.”

Jill said that Sarah, who was then aged 10 and is pictured on the end left, was also excited about meeting the boxing legend, although unfortunately ended up being quite embarrassed at the encounter.

“He had been really good with the girls who were all younger members of the majorette group and spent quite a lot of time chatting with them,” said Jill. “But I remember that after Sarah had chatted with Henry and had some pictures, she came back to me and her Dad and said ‘I thought you said that boxer man Henry Cooper was going to be here?’

“Apparently she’d expected him to look completely different and hadn’t realised it had been him she’d been talking to the whole time! She was very embarrassed when we told her!” Sarah still lives in Harlow and works as a care assistant at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow Sports Shield

CONTINUING the sporting theme, we thought it would be appropriate to revisit one of the biggest events in the area of the 1960s - the Harlow Sports Shield.

A few weeks ago we published this photo, sent in by Bill Lewis (62) of Chapel Fields, which shows a victorious 15th Harlow Scout group in what Bill thought was the early 1960s. However, reader Kathy Stokes, of Great Brays, thinks it may have been taken a few years later.

“I was wondering if the date was right in the photo of the Scouts as I believe one of the boys in the front line is my son, Anthony, and a few of his friends including Peter and Paul Manning. They are over 50 now so I would be interested to know if this photo could have been taken about 1969 instead?” John Gillespie, of Willowfields, also got in touch to put some names to faces.

25 years ago

Chain drug store Medicare upset competitors this week when they announced plans to set up shop in Harlow. The group disclosed plans for a new store on the old Woolworths site by the end of June. However, the owner of one local pharmacy said the town was already “over-stocked” with drug stores and that it was foolish to encourage more duplicates.

Patients found the casualty departments at both St Margaret’s Hospital, Epping and Princess Alexandra Hospital, Harlow, closed on Monday night, forcing them to travel to Bishop Stortford for treatment. PAH administrator Bob Rolfe said the closure of the Harlow A&E had been caused by the acute lack of beds resulting from the closures of other nearby hospitals but hoped services would be open again this week.

A sales assistant from Staple Tye has won the title of Harlow Carnival Queen 1986. Sandie Dimmick was crowned queen in a ceremony at the May Ball at the Moat House Hotel on Saturday night. The blonde 18-year-old, whose hobbies include dress making, swimming and going out, told the Star: “I really can’t believe it. I really didn’t expect to win.”

Animal lovers are fearing for the safety of local cats after two Persians were found abandoned in Epping Forest - exactly a year after two other animals were found in a similar state of distress. Both the felines had matted coats infested with fleas and one had to be put down because of a bad eye infection. The RSPCA are appealing for information.

Fighting the threat to town's character

SIR, Tony Hall is right to draw attention to the fact that Harlow 'New Town', as it was originally called, was built in a rural area in the face of opposition from residents (Letters, April 28).

But those were post-war days when, not so long before, we had seen whole cities in Britain, Germany and across the world destroyed. There was a desperate need for reconstruction.

Harlow Development Corporation oversaw the building of the town and ensured that there was a careful balance of housing with the provision of shops, schools and other facilities, not to mention the green wedges. This was a far cry from being one huge council estate.

Unfortunately, recent construction has been developer-led. There has been little account taken of the character of the existing town. The overriding principle has been to make money for the developer.

Large multi-national retailers have been allowed to build huge stores which draw the shoppers away from the original shopping centres, something the development corporation would never have permitted. Restaurants and cinemas have followed the superstores, further eroding the town centre.

The council, no matter which political party has been in power, has played its part in the erosion of the town by neglecting its buildings so that it becomes uneconomic to repair them.

If ever there was a need for a civic society to try to protect what is left of the original vision of the 'New Town' it is now.

Frank Brown
Heron's Wood, Harlow

Principles must not be sacrificed

SIR, The letters from Tony Hall and Jim Pailing illustrate that Sir Frederick Gibberd's concept of Harlow as a town with its green wedges and rural environment is under attack.

Not only dogs make a mess

SIR, As a dog walker who always picks up after my animal, I am pleased to see Harlow Council is to issue on-the-spot fines for those who do not clear up dog mess (Star, May 5).

On the same token I hope the council will also have a warden to patrol the Town Park and fine those people who constantly leave behind picnic rubbish, smouldering barbecues, broken glass, nappies. The council knows the hotspots as it sends in litter pickers most days, so why not crack down on the litter louts as well. To people who use the park I ask, would you leave your house strewn with such rubbish? Take a tip and take your rubbish home or put it in the provided bins.

Lesley Durrant
address supplied - Editor

Harlow Civic Society is opposed to the idea that the town should become a growth point for urban sprawl which is why we object to the development of 1,200 dwellings north of Gilden Way and building over our green wedges.

We are deeply concerned about the need to provide homes, above all for people on Harlow Council's waiting list, but very few of these will have the means to buy even the so-called 'affordable' properties if they are built.

When I was MP for Harlow I worked incessantly to ensure that those in need got homes but I was, and still am, deeply concerned about defending the town's environment.

The very idea of building new towns after the Second World War was linked to the defence of London's Green Belt, first introduced by the London County Council in the 1930s. The new towns, based on the concept of garden cities as conceived by Ebenezer Howard, were not intended to become urban growth centres continually spilling over the surrounding countryside at the behest of speculative developers.

Mr Pailing may sneer at farmers but world food prices are shooting up and we should value agricultural land.

Harlow people want the town to prosper but we are resolutely opposed to throwing overboard the principles on which it is based.

If the council wishes to hear our views, why has the present leadership totally ignored our repeated requests for a meeting?

Stan Newens
Park Hill, Harlow

The Gibberd vision of green gateways

SIR, I was surprised to see Tony Hall promoting himself as an expert on Sir Frederick Gibberd.

I didn't think he ever worked for or with him and I don't recall his attendance at the many talks, lectures and seminars Sir Frederick gave about Harlow and his master plan.

That included a concept of green gateways to lead to the town centre. Now Fifth Avenue offers lines of toy town houses. His favourite green gateway view was of the town centre skyline seen from the Waterhouse Moor pond, now spoilt by the ugliest building in the town, and across the roundabout, the largest WC overflow pipe in Essex!

Harlow Civic Society has constantly pleaded for new comprehensive plans for the town and the town centre, not unrelated and unplanned infilling here and there.

The overdue completion of the Summers neighbourhood would be a start in providing help for those on the housing waiting list, not something that New Hall or Gilden Way will assist.

Ron Bill
Upper Park, Harlow

SIR, After reading the article concerning dog owners not clearing up their animals's mess, it may be only a small majority and I agree there should be an on-the-spot fine.

But I walk my dogs around the Town Park and I am fed up with the amount of litter that has been left behind.

Why should dog owners be punished and not the general public? They should be fined, too, as leaving litter around is a health and safety issue as well.

If our dog swallows any scraps of food left behind and becomes ill, then we have to pay the vet's bill.

Harlow Council does not even supply larger litter bins and there are not enough of them, so they should take the blame as well.

Name and address supplied - Editor

SIR, I think it is great news that council rangers will be patrolling the town looking for people who do not clean up after their dogs.

Can these rangers come to Old Harlow as it seems that there are some people who will not clean up after their animals

I must say older people do clean up but it seems that younger people will not. I think parents should make sure their children take poo bags with them if they are taking their dog for a walk.

I have two dogs and walk in Old Harlow every morning and evening and I am never without several bags in my pocket.

If I can do it as an OAP I am sure it would not be hard for a young person. After all, there are several poo bins in Old Harlow.

Council must listen to the community

SIR, People power, localism, Big Society and protecting our green spaces. That's what they promised us during the last elections.

Politicians swore to listen to local communities and to respect our wishes, so why aren't they listening?

The people of Old Harlow have had enough of our views being ignored over 1,200 more traffic gridlocking homes at Gilden Way in addition to the thousands being built at New Hall and Church Langley. Some 800 of us have sent the council letters of objection and more than 3,500 of us have signed a petition against this monstrous estate.

Yet it seems from Councillor Tony Hall's letters regarding this that our council has already made up its mind to agree to this damaging proposal (Letters, April 28).

On Saturday the people of Old Harlow held a Save Our Green demonstration against the Gilden Way development. Our message to our council is keep your promises on localism, listen to and respect the wishes of the community.

Colleen Morrison
Sheering Road, Old Harlow

The civic society has supported the Newhall development but opposes demands for excessive infilling of Harlow. It has suggested land that could be used, which had been identified in previous Harlow expansion proposals.

If only Messrs Hall and Pailing and council leader Andrew Johnson would meet civic society representatives instead of sneering, we would be pleased to correct some of the historical and other inaccuracies in their letters.

Moira Jones and Mag Barrett
Harlow Civic Society members

The facts speak for themselves

SIR, After reading Tony Hall's letter, I found myself in complete agreement. I, too, have criticised Harlow Civic Society for its oddly backward-facing intentions. Harlow is unsustainable. This can be proved by the fact that so many leave the town each morning to work elsewhere.

The number of vacant jobs currently in the town does not match that commuting total. You can't argue with the maths!

Aran Black
Gibson Court, Harlow

Putting a stop to overdevelopment

SIR, I am writing in support of Rev Lynn Hurry, her parishioners and residents of The Gowers who are seriously concerned about overdevelopment.

As residents will know, The Gowers is a cul-de-sac of 16 houses, a vicarage, church and church hall supporting many community activities, and a busy preschool. It is a beautiful conservation area and many of its trees are hundreds of years old.

Yet this peaceful community is facing a serious threat from overdevelopment which, in the view of many, is in no way sympathetic with the surrounding houses. Their case is simple: we must protect our green wedges and build housing that is in keeping with the environment.

That is why the Government is currently passing a new law – the Localism Bill – which will give planning powers back to local people, including a power to stop garden-grabbing. This will sweep away the old top-down Whitehall planning system that Labour created and put a stop to overdevelopment.

I have written to the Minister of State to register my objection to these proposals. In a few weeks time I will be voting in favour of the Localism Bill in Parliament.

St Mary-at-Latton Church and the residents of The Gowers deserve to have their say.

Daredevil with a head for heights

A REAL-life Spiderman has stepped back into the record books after successfully scaling the world's tallest building.

Frenchman Alain Robert even climbed up the spire extending beyond the top floors of the 828m Burj Khalifa building in Dubai, pictured left.

For once the 48-year-old daredevil reluctantly used a rope and harness to comply with health and safety requirements in the Gulf state.

Medical crews were also stationed at the base of the building in case there was an accident. Hundreds of spectators lined the streets outside the shopping centres and restaurants at the bottom of the tower to watch the record-breaking climb. Alain has climbed more than 70 skyscrapers, including the Empire State Building in New York, the Willis Tower in Chicago and the Petronas Towers in Kuala Lumpur. He also conquered Taiwan's Taipei 101, which used to be the world's tallest building before the Burj was built in 2004. The owners of the tower described Mr Robert's six-hour climb as "momentous".

◀ STEWARDS Eight talented dance pupils from the Parnall Road school were selected to take part in special entertainment project for a big St George's Day rugby game at Twickenham.

As part of the Pro Excel 'Move It' dance scheme, the students took to the floor with almost 700 other young performers from all over the UK at the match between London Wasps and Bath. The youngsters, who had to complete a four-day training course prior to the event, perfected four dances to entertain crowds before and during the game.

Afterwards, Year 10 pupil Matt Walton, pictured left, said: "It was one of the most fun and memorable experiences of my life. I wish it wasn't over but I look forward to the next big opportunity."

Assistant headteacher Marie Erwood said: "It was a fantastic opportunity for them. They did a great job and are brilliant ambassadors for the school."

◀ SAINt NICHOLAS Budding young engineers are preparing to present their ideas to the experts after winning a place in the regional finals of a national engineering competition.

As part of the Institution of Civil Engineers' create sport challenge, teams of pupils were asked to design and build a model of a sports venue that fulfils a community need.

Year Eight and Nine pupils at the school in Hobbs Cross, Old Harlow, did not disappoint with their entry – an environmentally friendly Armadillo Velodrome – which impressed the judges.

Design and technology teacher Edna Reilly said: "It's really exciting. All the children worked really hard on this and there were some really good entries from the school. It's great to see one of our teams getting into the finals."

The youngsters will now compete against seven other teams for a place in the national final where they could win a £1,000 prize for the school.

BURNT MILL As part of their GCSE examination practical work, Year 11 performing arts students decided to present a showcase exploring a range of controversial subjects through the mediums of dance, drama and music.

The youngsters, who performed their final pieces to an audience of parents and friends, delved into themes ranging from drug addiction to cot death.

It also included a parody of the film Reservoir Dogs. Director of performing arts Pat Walker said: "The performing arts students at Burnt Mill continue to astound me with the standard of their work, which can only reflect in the GCSE grades."

◀ BUSY BEES There were chicks, eggs and daffodils galore when children modelled their creative efforts for an Easter bonnet parade at the nursery in Greenways, Harlow.

The youngsters, who made their innovative entries at home, invited their parents in for an Easter themed afternoon.

Catering manager Vicky Clift said: "It was really good. We had some lovely entries and they all did really well with their bonnets.

"Everyone was very creative and put a lot of effort into their hats. We had eggs, chicks, flowers and even bunny ears - it was very difficult to choose our winners!"

Why local papers are so important

I AM delighted to send my full support to the Newspaper Society's Local Newspaper Week.

For decades local newspapers have faced fierce competition. First there was the radio, then television, now of course, the internet. But despite all these challenges they continue to play a vital role and that's testament to the extraordinary creativity and versatility of all those people who work in local media.

Local newspapers are hugely important to our country – for two good reasons.

First, they strengthen our democracy, holding the powerful to account. Whereas national newspapers can focus on the bigger picture, it's local papers that often really analyse the detail of what central and local government is doing and the impact their policies have on the ground.

In the weeks and months ahead, I expect local papers to continue to scrutinise everything the Government does in their area and act as a voice for their readers.

Second, local papers are hugely important in helping to build a bigger, stronger society. There is a massive gap between the state on the one hand and the individual on the other, and local papers help fill the space in between, galvanising readers into action. That could be by campaigning on local issues, highlighting local clubs, groups, businesses and societies and encouraging people to get involved, or championing local people who are playing their part to make their community a better place.

By shining a spotlight on this good work, local

This week is Local Newspaper Week, an annual celebration of the strength of regional and local press in the UK. Here, Prime Minister David Cameron explains why he believes local newspapers are hugely important to our country.

papers persuade others to do more – and I want to see more of it. That's why I would like to take this opportunity, as we celebrate Local Newspaper Week, to ask local newspapers and you, their readers, to show off even more of the great work taking place in your community and nominate your local heroes for the Government's Big Society Awards.

There have been 16 winners to date, recognising the remarkable work going on in towns and cities up and down the country, by all kinds of organisations from large enterprises to tiny grassroots schemes and inspirational individuals.

This week I am hosting a reception for the first round of award winners in Downing Street. I hope that in the months ahead I'll be able to meet and hear about many more of the people making such a valuable contribution to their community.

● You can find details on the Big Society Awards and information on how to make a nomination at www.number10.gov.uk/bigocietyawards.

Swift return for a two-day fundraiser

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

If you are looking for an alternative to the lure of the retail park mega-sale this forthcoming Bank Holiday weekend, why not succumb to festival fever instead as a Harlow pub hosts a two-day rock 'n' roll fundraiser.

Last year the Help For Heroes Benefit Weekender – the brainchild of Stief Brett, lead singer of local psychobilly loons The Noxious Toyz – raised £1,200 for the Armed Forces charity. This year it returns on May 28-29 and the organisers are promising it will be bigger, better and boozier!

Featuring a mouth-watering line-up of some of the best punk, rock and psychobilly bands on the live circuit as well as a barbecue, raffle and merchandise stalls selling everything from T-shirts to CDs, the family-friendly event takes place at The Golden Swift pub in Harberts Road.

"We've got an extra day to play with this year so the line-up's looking even better than last time," Stief told the Star. "The bands jumped at the chance to do something to help a charity that's close to all our hearts.

"With this event we want to highlight and promote all the heroes who give their time, freedom and sacrifices – sometimes the ultimate sacrifice – by doing their duty to serve and protect the people of our nation."

As well as Stief's own band, the bill also includes cult US rockabilly legends The Pharaohs, The Square's Rock Contest 2010 winners De-Railed, Harlow psych-rock stalwarts Deviant Amps, country rockers The Doggone Honkabilly Band and many more.

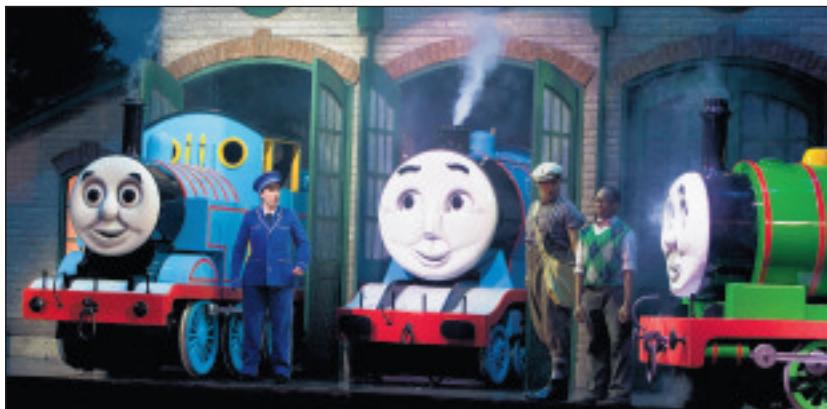

Entry to both days of the festival is free, although gig-goers will be encouraged to make a generous donation to Help For Heroes.

"This is going to be a huge, fun-packed festival that will hopefully raise lots of money for the brave men and women risking their lives for our country," said Stief.

"There really will be something for everyone across the weekend so why not come along and have some fun while helping out a very worthy cause?"

Make tracks to join Thomas and friends

HOP on board and join the fun at Harlow Playhouse next week when Thomas The Tank Engine and friends chug into the theatre for a dazzling new stage musical.

The all-new 90-minute show Thomas & Friends: A Circus Comes To Town will be rolling into town next Saturday (May 21) for five fabulous family-friendly performances.

One of the most popular and enduring children's characters in the world, the talkative train will be joined by Percy, James, Gordon, Sir Topham Hatt (older readers will remember him as the jovial Fat Controller) and a colourful cast of circus performers in an engaging story demonstrating the importance of teamwork, friendship and co-operation.

When bungling Thomas makes a big mistake, all the engines on the Island of Sodor must put aside their differences and work together to prepare for the forthcoming circus. Meanwhile Thomas must overcome his embarrassment to prove he's up to the job.

Packed with audience sing-alongs, dancing and thrilling adventures, this is one train ride you won't want to miss!

Performances begin at 11am, 2pm and 5pm on Saturday, May 21 and 11am and 2pm on Sunday, May 22. Tickets are £15 (£13 for under-16s), with a family pass (two adults and two concessions) costing £50.

Close encounters with crew kids on the block

ATTACK THE BLOCK certificate 15, 1h28m

TIME and again when extraterrestrials invade Earth they choose the trigger-happy United States of America as the point of inception.

And every time there is a square-jawed hero who single-handedly repels their otherworldly advances.

Not so in Attack The Block, a riotous action comedy from writer-director Joe Cornish. This time the aliens descend on an unsuspecting south London council estate. The terrified residents of the capital should be no match for slavering beastes with luminous fangs, except the invaders don't count on local knife-wielding hoodies with a serious attitude problem.

The wolf-like creatures soon realise that their devastating speed and strength are no match for the lads whose merciless fighting instincts have been honed on PlayStation and Xbox.

Trainee nurse Sam (Jodie Whittaker) is mugged on her way home by wayward lads Moses (John Boyega), Pest (Alex Esmail), Dennis (Franz Drameh), Jerome (Leeon Jones) and Biggg (Simon Howard). But the assault is cut short by a meteor shower and when the youths investigate they come face to snout with a creature from another world. They slay the snarling beastie and drag its lifeless, furry carcass to the top floor drug den run by Hi-Hatz (Jumayn Hunter) and his layabout door man, Ron (Nick Frost).

And when a second downpour of meteors heralds more creatures, the lads gleefully grab weapons and leap onto the bicycles and mopeds.

Attack The Block has the potential to be one of the surprise hits of the summer, boasting some energetic action sequences in and around the tower block as well as hilarious one-liners.

Cornish plays loose and fast with conventions of the genre and doesn't think twice about sacrificing some of his young protagonists to the creatures to underline the clear and present danger. Transforming young people who are demonised by society into the unlikely saviours of the hour is a nice touch.

In space no one can hear you scream but in south London they can. They just choose to ignore you.

PIRATES OF THE CARIBBEAN: ON STRANGER TIDES (3D) certificate 12A, 2h17m

CAPTAIN Jack Sparrow (Johnny Depp) searches for the fabled Fountain of Youth in a 3D adventure which takes him to new horizons and along the way pits him against mermaids, zombies and the infamous Blackbeard.

When Jack crosses paths with a woman from his past (Penelope Cruz), he's not sure if it's love or if she's a ruthless con artist who is using him to find the fabled fountain.

After she forces him aboard the Queen Anne's Revenge – the ship of the formidable pirate Blackbeard (Ian McShane) – Jack finds himself on an unexpected adventure in which he doesn't know who to fear more: Blackbeard or the woman from his past.

>still on screen

Water For Elephants Poised to take his final veterinary exam, Jacob (Robert Pattinson) learns that his parents have been killed in a car accident and abandons his studies. With debts to pay and no roof over his head, the young man hitches a ride on a passing train unaware it belongs to a circus run by August Rosenbluth (Christoph Waltz). The tyrant physically and mentally abuses animals and performers, including his beautiful wife Marlena (Reese Witherspoon) who rides the horses. When Jacob falls under Marlena's spell, he tries to resist his feelings as he works alongside her to win the trust of a special elephant. However, when August notices the way the young man stares at Marlena, he exacts a horrific revenge.

Hanna Sixteen-year-old Hanna (Saoirse Ronan) lives in snowbound Scandinavia with her father Erik (Eric Bana), honing the fighting skills she will need for the perilous mission that lies ahead: to kill ruthless CIA agent Marissa Wiegler (Cate Blanchett). Once she is trained and primed for action, Hanna bids farewell to her father and embarks on her quest to kill Wiegler with trained assassin Isaacs (Tom Hollander) and his henchmen on her trail.

Thor (3D) In the realm of Asgard ruled by Odin (Anthony Hopkins) and his wife Frigga (Rene Russo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth) is an arrogant heir to the throne. He acts first and thinks later, endangering the lives of his trusty companions Volstagg (Ray Stevenson), Sif (Jaime Alexander), Hogun (Tadanobu Asano) and Fandral (Joshua Dallas) by launching a suicidal attack on the Frost Giants led by the menacing Laufey (Colm Feore). Odin strips his son of his powers and his legendary war hammer, and dispatches him to Earth as punishment.

Insidious Josh Lambert (Patrick Wilson) and his wife Renai (Rose Byrne) move into a new house with sons Dalton (Ty Simpkins) and Foster (Andrew Astor). Late one night Dalton hears a strange sound in the attic and goes to investigate. He glimpses a shadow and lets out a blood-curdling scream. The next morning, Foster tries to wake his brother but the boy has slipped into a coma. Before long Renai senses something is terribly wrong in the home and Foster adds to Renai's discomfort when he whimpers about an intruder. So Josh's mother Lorraine (Barbara Hershey) invites her supernaturally gifted friend Elise Rainier (Lin Shaye) to survey the property.

Fast & Furious 5 Former detective Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker) and lover Mia Toretto (Jordana Brewster) spring her brother Dominic (Vin Diesel) from a prison bus and hide out in Rio with Dom's childhood friend, Vince (Matt Schulze). The fugitives are double-crossed by drug lord Reyes (Joaquim De Almeida) and they vow revenge by plotting to steal $100m of the corrupt businessman's ill-gotten gains.

Rio (3D) Blu (voiced by Jesse Eisenberg) is a domesticated blue macaw who is taken to Rio de Janeiro to mate with the only known female blue macaw, Jewel (Anne Hathaway). But soon after Blu meets Jewel the birds are kidnapped by greedy animal smugglers led by the nefarious Marcel (Carlos Ponce).

Hop Young rabbit EB runs away from Easter Island and heads for Hollywood to pursue his dreams of being a drummer in a rock 'n' roll band. Once there he finds an unexpected ally in eternal loser Fred O'Hare (James Marsden).

If you're looking for a brand new property in an exclusive development with plenty of space and a great location, then this week's cover property – on the market with Wright & Co – could be just what you've been waiting for.

Situated between Sawbridgeworth and High Wych and constructed to a high specification by Grange Builders, this house has three/four reception rooms, five bedrooms and the benefits of a full 10-year NHBC guarantee.

A natural stone threshold entrance area with low voltage lighting and oak door leads to a spacious entrance hall with doors off to the downstairs cloakroom and living room with natural stone fireplace and French doors to the conservatory with high gloss porcelain floor and underfloor heating.

The kitchen/family room has sash windows to both front and rear. The kitchen area is fitted with oak base and eye level units, solid granite work surfaces, high gloss porcelain tiles, underfloor heating and low voltage lighting. The family room has space for a large table and chairs or sofas, while a study completes the downstairs accommodation. On the first floor are five bedrooms, three en suite bath/shower rooms and a luxury family bathroom.

The house has attractive landscaped garden areas. To the rear is a natural stone-paved patio area and a garden which is mainly laid to lawn and enclosed by rustic brick walling and fencing. There is outside lighting, power points and a cold water tap.

A gate leads to the side of the property where there is a driveway providing parking for four cars, enclosed by brick walling and leading to a detached double garage with a slate tiled roof, roller shutter door with remote control and eaves storage.

BUY-to-let investors are returning to the market in large numbers according to market analysts, causing yet another problem for the already struggling first-time buyers.

Property investment firm Assetz claims that buy-to-let investors with large cash deposits are pushing out the first-timers. One reason for this is that risk-averse lenders demanding large deposits are being drawn back to the sector and away from the high loan-to-values required by most first-time buyers.

Under financial authority rules, lenders must also hold more capital against mortgages with smaller deposits.

You can't really blame the buy-to-let investors. Why wouldn't they want to take advantage of current market conditions, with lower prices and strong rental growth which looks set to continue?

Demand from tenants continued to rise during the first few months of 2011, with 49 per cent of landlords recording growing levels of tenant demand during that period.

Buy-to-let owners typically have deposits of between 25-40 per cent and are an attractive prospect to lenders due to the lower loan-to-value loans required and their proven track record in repaying mortgages. Compare this to the typical first-time buyer profile of a much lower deposit and no proven record of repayment and you can understand why they may be less attractive to lenders.

The buy-to-let sector has not been as hard hit by the recession as might have been expected because interest rates have remained extremely low.

If you're a property investor it's great news, but for the first-time buyers it may be a case of renting a while longer than you'd planned.

Have you seen Joseph Rank House Yet?

The Howick & Brooker agency have been honoured with the job of marketing and selling some of the most attractive apartments Harlow has ever seen and they are right in the centre of town!

You must have noticed, the builders have been on site now for months and what a project it has been. Over eleven floors, we now have over 130 flats all with the most amazing views, some over Passmores and out towards the Stort Valley and Hertfordshire beyond.

I visited the building the other day and was very impressed with the conversion from acres of former offices into interesting and well designed life style homes.

The launch is next weekend, 21st & 22nd May, please come along and have a look around.

Read what a client says about us.

April 2011

Dear Mr Gittins,

I am writing to say a big Thank You to your Staff @ haart in Harlow. I inherited a House in Harlow and wanted to sell as quickly as possible for many reasons and went to haart Estate Agents. I initially dealt with Stewart, then with Shawn, Matt, James and Amanda. They were all incredibly helpful, I left my keys and they did the rest. Put the House on the market on Thursday, sold by Monday!

We exchanged last Wednesday and completed last Friday. Solicitors were Premier and brilliant too, it all worked very smoothly. I did have an initial hiccup, but Stewart made contact on my behalf and all was well.

When I took my keys in last Thursday, Amanda came to greet me at the door, big smile and "Hello Mrs Cooper" (she even remembered my name!) I did not think this kind of service existed anymore.

Please give them all a big pat on the back - you have some wonderful staff there.

Yours sincerely

Mrs. E. M. Cooper

Little city car that's grown up

By Iain Dooley

In the past, if you wanted an affordable runabout you had to compromise. Refinement, cabin quality, performance and equipment levels were never great.

Recently things have started to change for the better. Factor in buyers downsizing and it's good to see manufacturers upping their game.

Some have responded more quickly than others, with Korean firm Kia surprising industry observers with its all new Picanto. The outgoing car has been a huge success, but it remains a genuine budget car – there's a big step from this to Kia's family hatch C'eed, for instance.

Not anymore, as the company has delivered a new Picanto boasting greater levels of refinement, a more dynamic on-road performance, improved cabin and boot space, family car-levels of safety kit and economy and emissions low enough to rival anything with a Bluemotion badge.

Essentially this latest generation Picanto is a mature and sophisticated interpretation of the classic city car. It's still small enough to drive around town and slot into those impossibly small parking spaces, but now it has the ride and handling qualities of something much bigger.

FACT file

Kia Picanto

£8,000-£11,000 on the road (estimate)

Engine:

1.0-litre petrol unit developing 69bhp

Transmission:

5-speed manual driving the front wheels

Performance:

Top speed 95mph / 0-62mph in 14.4 secs

Economy:

67.2mpg

CO₂ Rating:

99g/km

The same is true of the car's cabin, which is now more accommodating and furnished with noticeably higher grade materials. It's also a more stylish environment, which does much to distance the Picanto from the unadventurous stereotype of Korean cars of old.

Style-wise, this Picanto could never be described as unadventurous. Clearly influenced by Kia's Sportage SUV, the Picanto's bold looks demonstrate the newfound confidence of the firm's design team.

There will be no mistaking this car's fuss-free sheetmetal and bold nose treatment for anything else in the supermarket car park. Getting younger buyers into the Picanto is priority right now and Kia executives make no excuses for the car's striking appearance.

At the Picanto's core is a duo of small capacity petrol engines and impressive headline economy and emissions figures.

UK buyers will get a choice of 1.0-litre and 1.2-litre units with a five-speed manual gearbox and the option of a four-speed auto. In standard trim the three-cylinder 1.0 motor emits just 99g/km CO₂, with the bigger engine emitting 105g/km. Power output is 69 and 85 horsepower respectively while economy for the 1.0-litre lump is 67.2mpg and 62.7mpg for the 1.2.

The inclusion of stop-start technology knocks four points off the three-pot engine's rating and, although impressive, don't expect to see the technology on all the cars. The Picanto already breaks the magic 100g/km figure, and the cost of the stop-start kit could be used to offer a different alloy wheel choice or other similarly priced creature comforts.

In practice the 1.0-litre Picanto will surprise many with its ability to keep pace with traffic, hold its own at motorway speeds and tackle corners with the maturity of something produced closer to home. Kia's little city car is now all grown up and its overall performance is easily a match for anything in the same class from Europe.

What's most impressive is that three-cylinder motor. A willing performer that never becomes raucous even when pushed hard, its flexible nature ensures smooth progress at urban speeds and there's always enough in reserve for the occasional traffic light grand prix and out of town adventure.

The 1.2-litre car offers a little more power and might be suited to anyone who regularly ventures outside the city limits. In practice the performance gain is a small one and, besides, the plucky three-cylinder motor sounds nicer.

For many, the ownership experience will be just as important and with Kia offering three trim levels it's unlikely that you'll be short of choice. Aside from the usual suspects – power steering, remote locking, anti-lock brakes – depending on the trim level you can expect to see the likes of electric windows and mirrors, air-con, alloy wheels and an audio unit including MP3 player connectivity.

Kia's now famous, and generous, warranty is another plus that shouldn't be forgotten and there's the Picanto's seven – yes, seven – airbags. Granted, you hope to never use them but that's still a few more than most and enough to rival a £60,000 BMW.

For a small car Kia's Picanto makes a big impression. And while that's partly down to its looks, on closer inspection you'll see a mature city car with the ability to travel much further than just to the shops and back.

Bang up to date in terms of kit and performance, emissions and economy couldn't be better. With the Picanto, Kia's desire to make waves in the European small car market has only just begun.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi
Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

England U-19 call-up for Holly

TEGATE Netball Club player Holly Sims, pictured above, is starting to take some big steps on the path of a successful career in the sport – after being called up for the England U-19 squad.

The youngster was invited to the English Netball National Excel screening day.

Although only 16, Holly was selected along with 20 other girls for the England U-19 Excel squad for 2011-12.

Holly started playing at the Harlow-based Tegate club at the tender age of 10.

Her coach, Carol Bull said: "It was very obvious from that early age that Holly was going to be a talented player.

"Her athleticism coupled with her consistent hard work to improve, took her into the senior east region squad, where she learnt to compete and play alongside very experienced and talented players.

"Holly has progressed through [Essex] county and regional levels, and recently was selected to play for Hertfordshire Mavericks squad. "All the players and coaches at Tegate Netball Club are very proud of Holly, and wish her well on her continuing journey towards her goal of playing for her country at senior level."

• If you are interested in joining Tegate Netball Club, contact Carol Bull on 07713 579388

Joshua's English Champs double

JOSHUA Steel had a double cause for celebration when he competed in the English Basketball U-14 National Schools Championships.

The 14 year-old from the Hoo in Harlow helped his school, Barking Abbey, win the event at the Nottingham Wildcat Arena on Sunday. He was also awarded the MVP (Most Valuable Player) in the final.

Joshua, a former member of Harlow Hawks Basketball Club, will also represent his London-based school in the semi-finals of the U-15 and U-16 categories this coming weekend.

Maiden in heaven after final foursome

Maiden res 4, FC Cincuenta 0
Harlow & District Football League Plate final

JOHN Burchell netted a brace as Maiden reserves notched a comfortable victory over FC Cincuenta in the Harlow & District League Plate final.

Maiden reserves had more of the chances in the clash at Bishop's Stortford FC before they went ahead on 27 minutes.

Ben Godleman opened up the Cincuenta defence for Burchell to beat the oncoming keeper Graeme Wiggs to the ball and knock it into an empty net.

TROPHY TRIUMPH: The jubilant Maiden reserves team

Boxer earns Essex team selection

AMATEUR boxer William Webber has been selected to represent the Essex ABA team.

This was after the Harlow 12-year-old, pictured right, became the Essex and Essex Metropolitan class champion in the 45-48kg category in only his third amateur bout.

The Harlow ABC southpaw fighter beat Canvey Islands' Samuel Mitchel by 23 points to 3 at the Hutton Centre in Brentwood.

Mitchel is much taller than Webber, but the Harlow boy handled the pressure well and landed some excellent counter punches in the first round.

After an exchange of punches in the second round, the referee stepped in to break.

The fight continued after Mitchel told the ref he was able to carry on.

Webber then landed a combination of head shots and a right hook which was followed by a standing 8 count for Mitchel.

Webber has been training at the Ladyshot-based boxing club under Conrad Peacock for almost a year.

Nash threaded a neat ball through for Lee Evans who smashed the ball past Wiggs to give Maiden a well-deserved 2-0 lead at half-time.

The second half saw Maiden dominate, but Cincuenta missed an opportunity when Sean Clark was through but he failed to control the ball and the Maiden keeper gathered it.

Maiden made them pay on 80 minutes when the Cincuenta defence was opened up and Burchell finished well.

The scoring was completed on 86 minutes when a John Cowley free-kick took a deflection and beat the stranded Wiggs. Meanwhile, Stuart Zanone banged in four goals and Anthony James hit a hat-trick as Parsloe Athletic thrashed Harberts 8-0 in the Harlow & District League Senior Champions League Cup Final.

James opened the scoring after two minutes.

There were seven second-half goals.

These came from James (52 and 80 minutes), Zanone (54, 61, 71 and 90 minutes) and Dean McAteer (75 minutes).

Athletes fly high in Luton opener

PROMOTED Harlow Athletic Club can be proud of their performance in their opening Southern Men's League division two fixture at Luton on Saturday.

Harlow were up against teams who have been competing at the higher level for some years.

Hosts Luton and Colchester are strong contenders for this year's title.

Harlow, who were promoted after the League was reshaped after some clubs quit to join a breakaway league, came third out of four teams.

Harlow's 10-strong team included two new members in Mark Harris (27) and Tom Marshall (37).

Harris has only recently returned to athletics following a long lay-off after an accident.

Both are coached at Mark Hall

Sportscentre by Nat Fisher.

Harris achieved second spot in the A-string 5,000m in 17 mins 10.0 secs and was also second in the A 1,500m (4:30.8).

Veteran runner Steve Lott came third in the B 1,500m (5:59.7).

Marshall finished third in the B 5,000m (22:20.4).

Harris was supported pace-wise by the experienced Lott in the B 1,500m (5:59.7) as he took third.

Sterling performances came from Craig Snook after an 18-month lay off following back surgery.

He was second in the A javelin (39.56m) and won the B 110m hurdles (21.3s).

Harlow captain Dave Bauer said: "It was good to see Craig return to competing and support the team with two good performances."

Bauer, now a men's 45 age group competitor, fared well despite an ongoing groin injury.

He competed in the shot put for the first time in two years in the Southern League, gaining third in the A event (10.43m), ably supported by Glen Paxman (2nd B, 9.66m).

The hammer saw Bauer and Chris Clark throw respectively 33.05m (3rd, A) and 19.97m, (3rd B).

Bauer was third in the A discus (36.67m) and Clark came third in the B event (22.26m).

There were also PBs for Glen Paxman in the A long jump (6.35m, 2nd) and Lott in the A 800m (2:58.8).

The sprints were completed by Ian Smith (M40), gaining valuable points with third in the B 100m and 200m in 12.2s and 25.5s respectively.

The relays saw some good results with Harlow gaining second in the 4x100m (Smith, C. Paxman, Harris, G.

Paxman) and second in the 4x400m (Lott, C. Paxman, Harris, G. Paxman) – an exciting finish saw Glen overtake the 4th leg Colchester runner just before the line.

Bauer said: "I'm very pleased with the way the team competed considering how many are returning from injury; both the Paxman twins are not fully fit with Glen still carrying a calf injury.

"It would have been nice to have had some other athletes out and we are expecting some more to join us in other matches later in the year."

Other results: Glen Paxman - 2nd A pole vault 2.40m; 3rd A high jump 1.50m; 2nd A triple jump 11.80m; 2nd A 100m 11.4s; 2nd A 110m hurdles 20.9s; 3rd A 400m 54.8s; 2nd A 200m 23.6s. Carl Paxman - joint first B pole vault 1.00m; 3rd B long jump 5.43m; 3rd B high jump 1.40m; 2nd B javelin 35.48m; 2nd B triple jump 11.07m; 3rd B 800m 2:58.2; 1st B 400m 53.9s.

Beaton, (83), who is also a life member, past President and has twice been club

captain, said: "I'm so proud of this club. I have experienced so many exciting events over the 50 years we have been here and this is another marvellous milestone for me to experience."

"I'm so grateful to the committee for inviting me to perform this ceremony."

He was accompanied by his wife Silvia, son Barry and daughter Beverley, as well as lifelong friend and fellow member Arthur Sawyer.

Club captain Colin Godfrey and chairman Ivor Marshall were also present.

The proceedings were carefully watched by the club's course director Mark Paxman, who personally supervised the construction and development of this 376-yard hole (yellow tees).

Former club captain Alan Howick joked: "It has been rumoured, Mark was visiting the green almost daily around six in the morning and talking to the grass to ensure it grew the right way!"

lot of players in South Africa are coming to the end of their careers.

"A lot of the South African teams in the Super 15s are doing woefully."

"Australia could beat New Zealand in Australia but not in New Zealand."

Visagie, 37, played for Western Province and the Stormers in South Africa.

He also played more than 100 games for Saracens in England.

Visagie said that Wales international Geraint Jenkins was the toughest opponent he faced. "I was in the only South African side to have lost to Wales," he added.

He retired from rugby two years ago and is now a commercial director at Saracens and a coaching consultant.

It has been a disappointing season for Harlow Rugby Club as the first team were relegated from London division two north east after finishing bottom of the table.

However, centre Luke Bowering has impressed with his displays and was presented with the first team Player of the Year and Players' Player gongs at the awards night last Friday.

Director of rugby Lee Harron praised his efforts.

There were no awards for the third team as they were unable to fulfil fixtures and withdrew from the Essex Merit Table earlier in the season.

The event was attended by more than 60 people.

Other awards: Most Improved Player Chris Webb (1st team); Damian Wall (2nd team); Dan Jones (4th team); Anna Nickell (women's team).

Player of the Year: Simon Jenner (2nd team); Neil Boggas (4th team); Leah Dixon (women).

Women's Players' Player of the Year: Claire Lacey.

Delight as Harlow start with a win

The Harlow reply was steady as Rehman Ahmed and Monger put on 66 for the first wicket before Ahmed was caught by Bull off Naeem Iqbal for 36.

Monger was run out for 29 by a direct hit before Harlow league debutant Wajahat Husain was run out for 0.

However, ace batsman Ahmed Khawaja went on to make 50 before the hosts were steered to victory by fifth-wicket pair Conor Ramsay (23 not out) and Kulesena (23 not out).

Heskett was impressed with 16-year-old Ramsay. "Conor Ramsay played for the first team twice last year. He batted well. "I was always confident we would get the target."

Duo's 53-mile trek!

STEVE Ambrose and Dave Ayling took part in the Malvern Hills Ultra in Worcestershire.

A stamina-sapping 53-mile run that includes a total ascent of over 4,000ft, the Harlow Running Club duo completed the course in a fantastic 12 hours, 23 minutes and 6 seconds – all of which was run in driving rain!

At the Birchanger 10km race, near Bishop's Stortford, first Harlow runner to finish was Roy Steven in a superb third place in 46.03.

He was followed home by Pasquale Pellechia in 13th (50.18), Jon Steadman in 23rd (52.10), Matt Jones in 32nd (54.04), Vicki Steadman in 35th and 4th woman (55.31) and Ron Newton in 77th (65.37).

Meanwhile, at the Halstead Marathon David Page finished in a creditable 4:48.35.

Richard Solomons finished the Bracknell Half Marathon in 38th out of 965 runners in an excellent 1:30.

Harlow finished sixth from seven clubs at this meeting.

Meanwhile, Harlow's Daniel Yaxley competed at the Watford Open athletics meeting last Wednesday in the 800m race, running a new PB of 1:56.01 secs, knocking 3.7 secs off his previous PB. This ranks him third in Essex in the U-20s.

Bowen's back!

JUST when Rye House Rockets' season seemed to be descending into disaster with a string of injuries the club has been boosted by the news that the injury to key rider Luke Bowen is not as bad as first feared.

The Harlow flyer suffered a nasty crash in the Premier League matches against Ipswich and X-rays confirmed a broken vertebra.

But following a visit to the physiotherapy clinic in Ipswich on Monday, it was confirmed the injury was a pre-existing one and he has been cleared to ride for the Rockets in this Saturday's Knockout Cup tie against Newcastle (7pm start).

Although still in some discomfort, Bowen said with a combination of tenacity and humour: "I ride so often when I'm in pain that, relatively speaking, this will seem like a walk in the park."

Bowen's return will bring the Rockets back to full riding strength following Jason Doyle's earlier comeback from a dislocated shoulder.

Harron hailed as he hangs up his boots

LEE Harron's commitment to the Rams was deservedly recognised at Harlow Rugby Club's annual presentation evening.

The 37-year-old director of rugby at Ram Gorse will only play at scrum-half in an emergency from now on.

Harron, a policeman with the Metropolitan Constabulary, made his debut around 1991 and aside from a two-year stint at Old Albanian (2003-2005) has been in the thick of the action at Ram Gorse since then.

Harron was presented with the number nine shirt last Friday by close colleague and former first XV captain Paul Eynon, who made a witty speech about the popular scrum-half.

This was preceded by a standing ovation.

Harron, a modest man, said: "I did not expect to get anything like that. I did not know what to say and I was embarrassed. It was nice

TRIBUTE: Lee Harron received a warm standing ovation as he announced he was stepping down from the first team at Harlow (HSP0677786) to get that from the players.

"There are people similar to me, like Paul Eynon and Paul Prindiville, who did not get a mention."

He added: "It was hard to look at the [bad] results when I was at Old Albanian [when Harlow were relegated twice in his absence]."

Memories of Harron in his pomp at the turn of the century came flooding back; the controller at the back of the scrum, he cajoled the pack forward and barked instructions.

His blistering breaks and last-ditch tackles also spring to mind for this correspondent.

His high fitness levels have kept him going longer than most in his position but the effective end came when he told his wife before the Beccles game it would be his last first team match. "I told my wife on the morning of the game it would be the last home game for me. She was a bit taken aback," he said.

Harron has turned out around half a dozen times in the season just gone and added: "I will keep myself fit. If the need comes for me to play, I will play."

Chapman delight as he gets boss job

DANNY Chapman admitted he was thrilled after officially being appointed manager of Harlow Town FC.

The Harlow board of Tom Cunningham (co-owner), John Barnett (club chairman) and Magnus Peterson (director) met on Friday after which Chapman was offered the position on a permanent basis for the 2011-12 season.

A proud Chapman said: "It's something I wanted to do. I had to wait [before the appointment was made] and things had to be done properly. "I'm over the moon. I feel big things can be achieved at the club and I want to be a part of it."

Christian Wheeler's role as assistant manager has also been made permanent. The pair had initially been promoted in a caretaker capacity after Kevin Warren quit as first team boss.

"Christian Wheeler has been fantastic and I'm very pleased he is with me," said Chapman.

Warren stepped down from the managerial hot seat in January, before which Chapman and Wheeler had respectively been assistant manager and player-coach.

The pair took the Hawks from 14th to the play-offs (4th) in Ryman League division one north, before Harlow's

DAVE Cowley picked up his second award of the season when he was awarded Players' Player of the Year at Harlow Town Football Club's presentation evening.

The 23-year-old midfielder received the prize on Saturday. He had also won the Supporters' Player of the Year award. He received this shortly after the Hawks' 1-1 home draw against Ware on Easter Bank Holiday Monday.

Right-back Donny Barnard, right, was named Manager's Player of the Year. Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "Christian Wheeler (assistant manager) and I picked Donny. He played the majority of the games week in, week out. "He gave a near high level of performance and he does not quite get the recognition he deserves. This was a way of showing it." He added: "Donny is a player who shows the most natural level of ability at this level of football [Ryman League division one north]. He makes things happen." Danny Brown, who played in midfield and left-back, was awarded the Presidents Player of the Year award.

promotion ambitions ended when they lost 4-2 after extra time at Wingate & Finchley in their play-off semi-final nine days ago.

Subsequently, Wingate & Finchley beat Brentwood Town 3-2 in the play-off final on Saturday to gain promotion to the Ryman premier.

Chapman aims to make the play-offs irrelevant next year.

He said: "The aim is to win it. It's as simple as that. It would be nice to have an FA Cup run, but the main thing is to get promoted.

"All the players want to come back but things can change."

Cunningham said: "Danny and Christian have done very well but we had to [divorce] that from our decision. We needed the right persons in place to take the club forward. We wanted people that have a presence, the right discipline and work ethic."

"Danny Chapman and Christian Wheeler have that, without question."

Charity mourns Our 'Enry

FLASHBACK: When Star Sports Editor Alan Scott interviewed Sir Henry Cooper in March 2004. Below, Sir Henry with his three Lonsdale belts

Sporting Club chairman Mike Jackson has paid a warm tribute to the late Sir Henry Cooper.

Affectionately known as 'our 'Enry', the British boxing champion passed away at the age of 76.

Cooper was a tremendous supporter of the Harlow-based charity and, even in ill health in recent years, attended many of its annual gentlemen's boxing night at the Manor of Groves Golf & Country Club in High Wych.

Jackson said: "Sir Henry was an iconic sporting personality but more importantly he was a 'true gentleman' who was always willing to give his time for good causes and those less fortunate than himself. Sir Henry will be missed by everyone who knew him."

"Sir Henry has been a tremendous supporter of the President's Sporting Club. His association with us started in 1982 when he was an after dinner speaker at a sporting evening. He was again an after dinner speaker for us in 2002."

It was on one such night in 2004 that Sir Henry spared some time with Star Sports Editor Alan Scott and was interviewed for a feature article on the future of boxing (see above).

By ALAN SCOTT
Sports Editor
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

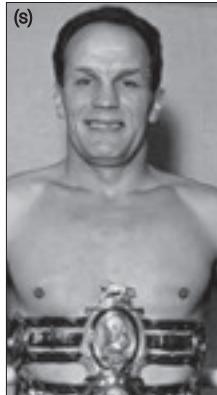

Cooper was a charming man to meet, a modest professional sportsman – arguably a rare breed in this day and age.

Cooper was best known for knocking down Muhammad Ali, then known as Cassius Clay, at Wembley Stadium in 1963. He floored Ali in the fourth round with 'Enry's 'Ammer' – his trademark left hook.

But Ali was saved by the bell.

The American later said that Cooper's punch was the hardest he had ever been hit in his career.

Cooper, who became Sir

Henry in 2000, triumphed as British, Commonwealth, European and Empire heavyweight champion.

He is the only man to have won three Lonsdale belts.

He also twice won the BBC Sports Personality of the Year award.

Cooper retired from boxing in 1971.

But it is his role with the President's Sporting Club, based in Harlow, that has brought him into this neck of the woods from his Kent home on numerous occasions for its charity events.

Jackson recalled: "Henry started attending our boxing evenings in 1985 and in total attended 33 evenings to support us. The last occasion was at The President's Sporting Club at The Manor of Groves in November 2010 when it was apparent he had been unwell."

"I have received numerous calls from members of the club, officials from boxing clubs and even 'Dave' who regularly drove Cooper to our events, saying how sad they all are to have heard the news that Sir Henry has passed away."

"Obviously I have been very fortunate to have enjoyed the company of Sir Henry on numerous occasions."

Hawks claim play-off win over champions

HARLOW Hawks will play West Herts Warriors in the play-off semi-finals at Harlow leisurezone next Wednesday (start 8.20pm).

This was Hawks pulled off a sensational result by beating the newly-crowned division one champions Ware Jokers in their play-off quarter-final.

Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz said: "We now have to maintain this level of intensity in the semi-final and if we do that then we have a good chance of progressing."

Hawks were without all of their big men and only seven players were available for their match at Ware's Wodson Park on Sunday.

The visitors trailed by eight points, before Shab Niaz scored a three-pointer to leave the Jokers 21-16 ahead going into the second quarter.

The Jokers increased their lead to 13 points, but Hawks then got two big three-pointers from Nick Moss and Dave Spashett.

Ware led 37-30 at half-time.

Hawks then managed to close the gap to a point.

Hawks held Jokers scoreless for a while, but there were missed free-throws again from the Hawks and Jokers were 51-49 up going into the final quarter.

The hosts then went five points ahead before Spashett hit back-to-back three-pointers to tie the score at 59-59.

Russ Allan then scored a three-pointer to put Hawks ahead for the first time with two minutes to go.

Ayo Oyerinde and Shab Niaz chipped in with precious points as Hawks went ahead by three points and the visitors hung on to claim a famous win.

Niaz said: "That was a fantastic team performance by the team. I am delighted with the attitude of each player."

"It was a big win for us. We managed to play well for the whole of the game."

HARLOW HAWKS: Allan (18pts), Moss (14), Shab Niaz (12), Oyerinde (10), Spashett (9), Jones (3), Zaf Niaz (3).

Final flourish for struggling football club

HATFIELD Heath's first team have had a tough year in the premier division but their reserves gave their club a big boost when they caused an upset to win the Inter-divisional Cup.

Heath have struggled to get enough numbers for their first team, but their second string showed their mettle to beat division one leaders Alemite Athletic reserves in the final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club. Heath went ahead on 25

Heath doubled their advantage just before the break when Owen stroked it home after a poor clearance.

Alemite pulled a goal back on 55 minutes. A ball from the right was tucked home by Ricky Goldblatt from 10 yards.

On the hour mark

Goldblatt had a shot cleared off the line by

Lewis Fielden.

Alemite boss Gerard Smith said: "They had the better of the first half. We did well in the second half but credit should go to them."

Hatfield Heath reserves player-manager Stuart Bull said: "We have had our problems trying to attract players. Hopefully this win will help to attract them.

"It was a great win for the lads. We took our chances and defended well."

Alderson spell key as Town secure derby victory

Nazeing 154, Harlow Tn 155-2

Harlow Town won by eight wickets
Herts & Essex League, division one

A DECISIVE second spell from Ashley Alderson was pivotal in Harlow Town's home win over Nazeing.

Nazeing batted first on Saturday and slipped to 19-2 with Alderson and Dan Calver taking a wicket apiece. Michael Blair and Ron Morley took the score to 107-2 before the former was then caught by Patrick Yates off Marc Lowers for 56.

With the ball moving around in the air, batting was never easy and Alderson then ripped through Nazeing, taking five of the remaining seven wickets.

He finished with 6-29, while Calver (2-21) and Lowers (2-24) were the other wicket takers as Nazeing slipped to 154 all out. Ron Morley made 35 not out.

In chasing the total down, Town were given a solid foundation by openers Yates and Shiraz Ali.

They put on 81 before Ali went for 27. Yates went on to make 50 before he was run out.

It was left to Scott Alderson (20 not out) and Ramaya Upadhyay (34 not out) to take Town to their second win in a row with eight overs to spare.

In division two, only Jason Gladwin offered much impression as he made 60 when Harlow Town II (130) lost to Birchanger (131-4) by six wickets.

Hassan Ali claimed a hat-trick but this could not prevent Harlow Town III (112) losing to Dunmow III (113-7) by three wickets in division five.

In division seven, Harlow Town IV (181) lost by 102 runs against Langley II (283-8; Stuart Alderson 4-36).

Potter Street & Church Langley (205) beat Braughing (189-9) by 16 runs in division three.

At 110-7, Street were wobbling but the tail wagged through Khawaja (75) and Bop.

In reply, the hosts bowled well and Muddasir Hussain took 6-0-36-4. Khawaja 10-0-0-2 and Khan 10-2-35-2 chipped in to make it two wins from two for the first team.

In division six, Street's second team (168) lost at Takeley II (174-4) by six wickets.

S. Aroon (40) and P. Lenihan (40) helped the visitors muster 168.

Takeley's opening batsman was dropped four times as they cantered to victory (D. Pullen 7-2-28-2).

Bowering cleans up as Bok backs Kiwis

LUKE Bowering picked up the two top prizes at the Rams' presentation night – while guest speaker and former Springbok Cobus Visagie admitted he does not think South Africa can retain the Rugby World Cup this autumn in New Zealand.

Visagie, who gained 29 caps as a tighthead prop for South Africa between 1999 and 2003, spoke to the Star at Harlow Rugby Club's dinner presentation evening last Friday.

He said: "I feel New Zealand are massive favourites. The only two teams that can beat New Zealand are France and South Africa. I cannot see France winning six games while a Rowley told the Star: "We are waiting for an answer from Leventhorpe. They have just built a new sports facility."

"John Warner is a possibility, but we are more likely to get players from Leventhorpe."

She added: "Even if we get the new facility we have to get it approved as [the women's teams are] in an Essex League and [Leventhorpe] is in Hertfordshire. The men [in the East Hockey League] would also have to tell their League."

Rowley admits she is extremely disappointed that competitive hockey can no longer be played in Harlow. "It will not attract youngsters. When we were [playing] at Bishop's Stortford [prior to 2001] we could look forward to Passmores," she said.

The pitch at Brays Grove can only be used for football. The grass is coarse and much longer. It's ridiculous that a town as big as Harlow does not have an Astroturf [suitable for hockey]."

Rowley said the club had considered a move to Redbridge but this was deemed too far by members and could only be sustainable in the short term.

John Warner School in Hoddesdon is also a possibility.

Harlow HC chairperson Linda

"You could manage for one season at Redbridge, but people would start to drift away," she said.

Harlow's move away from its Tendring Road base comes after less than 10 years of it being established.

Harlow originally played matches on grass pitches at Marigolds in Chippingfield Road, Old Harlow, but was forced off when the hockey leagues insisted clubs play on all-weather surfaces.

It moved to Bishop's Stortford in the 1990s and played matches at Bishop's Stortford College prior to the switch to Passmores School.

Sport England provided significant funding for this facility which was put up on the understanding it would last longer than it has done.

Rowley added: "Sport England have written to Essex County Council about this and about the provision of hockey in Harlow."

An Essex County Council spokesperson said: "Essex County Council is in discussions with Harlow Hockey Club to ensure that they are still able to practise and play hockey in the area, no decisions have been made at this stage."

A decision on what to do with the old Tendring Road complex has not yet been made by county councillors.
